THE PATIENT AT LOON LAKE

No Bad Symptoms in the Illness of Mrs. Harrison Reported Yesterday.

Her Condition Unchanged, the Disease Having Made No Progress—Little Hope Held Out by the Physicians, However.

LOON LAKE, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Mrs. Harrison was reported by Dr. Gardner, at 9 o'clock, as being a trifle better this morning, with indications of a natural absorption of the fluid in the chest cavity.

While there are some people here who think the distinguished invalid has a chance of recovery, the majority are inclined to the opinion that she will never leave this place alive. The President and the members of his household tend to be discouraged at Mrs. Harrison's present condition, but it is painfully evident to their intimate friends that they have little or no hope of her complete recovery. The physicians no longer conceal their real anxiety at the situation, and practically admit that the case has gone beyond the point where medicine or human skill can further avail. In the words of one of the physicians: "While there is life there is hope; but it is a rare exception when a person affected with consumption, like Mrs. Harrison now is, recovers from the disease." The President and other members of his family keep in seclusion and never leave the house, except to get their meals at the hotel.

Contrary to expectation, Dr. Doughty, the New York specialist, made another call on Mrs. Harrison this afternoon. He arrived at the Loon Lake railroad station, three miles from the village of Loon Lake, about 5 o'clock, on his way to New York, and was joined there by Dr. Gardner, the attending physician. The latter was informed that there was nothing in Mrs. Harrison's condition to necessitate any change in his return to his duties in New York, but, of course, if he could spare the time, he would appreciate a visit from him. Dr. Gardner, who is a member of the Loon Lake medical society, and who has been in the city since his arrival, was informed that there was nothing in Mrs. Harrison's condition to necessitate any change in his return to his duties in New York, but, of course, if he could spare the time, he would appreciate a visit from him. An inquiry at the President's cottage at 11 o'clock to-night was met with the response that Mrs. Harrison was about the same as at the last report, and that the rest of the family had retired for the night. The President telegraphed to the Secretary of the Treasury to-day that the Attorney-General has informed him that he has full power under the Constitution and laws to take whatever additional restrictions may be necessary to guard against the introduction of cholera. The President told the secretary that if the steamship companies persisted in sending to this country immigrants who are infected with cholera, he would demand that they had sufficient notice in the premises and would take action to restrict them accordingly. He asked the Secretary to inform the professional people of the country that he was not in a position to issue any further orders on the subject. This evening an answer was received by the President from Secretary Foster. The Secretary says that the professional people are complying willingly with the wishes of the general government. He gives it as his opinion that the steamship companies are acting in good faith, and that there will be no necessity for the issuance of any further orders.

Expressions of Sympathy and Sorrow.
BUFFALO, Sept. 15.—The following resolution was this afternoon adopted by a standing vote by the National League of Republican clubs:

Resolved, That this convention learns with deep regret the death of President Harrison, and that we extend to his family and to his countrymen our sincere sympathy and our prayers for the comfort of the bereaved family and the speedy recovery of the President's family.

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 15.—The United States military telegraphers at this city to-day, adopted a resolution of sympathy with President Harrison in the illness of his wife, and praying for her speedy restoration to health.

Important Tariff Decision.
BOSTON, Sept. 15.—The United States government has been sustained by the United States Court of Appeals upon the celebrated goats' hair case. The decision is of vast importance, involving many millions of dollars and affecting the rights of manufacturers and importers all over the country. The ruling reverses the decision of Judge Colt of the Circuit Court, who decided in favor of L. C. Chase & Co., the firm that brought the test case, and against the Board of General Appraisers and Collector Beard. The last mentioned official assessed a duty of 13 cents a pound on goats' hair goods, over the rate and against the tariff of 10 cents a pound. The collector claimed that he was authorized to assess the duty under the McKinley bill, and the Board of General Appraisers, to whom the importers appealed, held the same opinion.

Her Death Foretold in a Vision.
HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Sept. 15.—A death occurred in this city late yesterday which, owing to some strange circumstances surrounding it, is of public interest. Miss Sidney Kusler, a winsome girl, died after a brief illness, and the cause was pronounced apoplexy. She entertained a party of friends the night before. The night preceding that she had had a premonition of her own death within forty-eight hours in a vision. Late in the night after the entertainment, she was awakened by a distressing cry, and when awakened explained that she thought some one was carrying her away. Hysteria developed, and the unfortunate girl continued to grow worse, lingering until late yesterday, when she died.

ANOTHER CHOLERA CASE.

A New York Servant Girl Ill with the Pest—Suspicious Cases at Brooklyn.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—This city has another well-defined case of cholera, in the person of Mary Conerty, a nineteen-year-old girl, who came from Ireland six months ago, who was found to-day at the tenement, No. 692 Second avenue, suffering from what has been pronounced genuine cholera. The case was reported to the Health Department by Dr. Kane, of No. 673 Second avenue, who was called to attend her. Inspector Dillingham, of the Board of Health, declared the patient had cholera. It is not known how she got the plague. When the girl arrived in this city she went to live with a family named Lyons, friends of her, on the third floor of the tenement No. 692 Second avenue. Six or seven weeks ago she got employed as a servant in the home of Mrs. Marie L. Finn's theatrical boarding-house, at No. 221 East Thirty-first street. She was in good health until Wednesday night. That night she paid a visit to the Lyons family, and came home about 10 p. m. About midnight she was seized with violent pains, which were followed with vomiting and diarrhea. Mrs. Finn sent for Dr. Courtney, who, however, failed to answer the call. After waiting a few hours Dr. Kane was notified. In the meantime Mary expressed a wish to be taken to the Lyons apartments, and she was removed there. Dr. Kane visited her at 2 p. m. to-day, and, after an examination, diagnosed her illness as cholera. The police were notified and word was sent to the Bureau of Contagious Diseases. Dr. Roberts sent Inspector Dillingham up to the house and he, too, was of the opinion that it was a case of cholera. This fact was telephoned to the Board of Health, which was in session, and orders were issued to have the girl removed at once to the reception hospital, at the foot of East Sixteenth street.

No. 692 Second avenue is a tenement in which eight families live. The house was thoroughly disinfected to-day, and the bedding on which the sick girl laid was taken away and burned. All her clothing was also burned. Employees of the Health Department went to Mrs. Finn's boarding-house and took away the bed in which the girl slept there, and whatever clothing she had. Everything was burned to destroy the danger of infection. The boarding-house, which was also disinfected, Mrs. Finn's boarders, eight in number, are professional people. They were badly scared. A physician has been detailed to watch the house from which the girl was removed. How she got the cholera is a mystery. It is not known whether she has not visited any persons who have recently arrived from the other side. The only place she went was to see the Lyons family. The health inspectors are trying to trace the origin of the disease. There was much excitement around the neighborhood when the girl was removed. A large crowd had gathered, and it took several policemen to keep the crowd back. It is believed the girl died of the pest. The police are now examining some of the girl's vomit for bacteriological examination. This is the first case of cholera reported in this city in which the patient was alive.

TWO SUSPECTED CASES IN BROOKLYN.

Suspected cases of cholera were found in Brooklyn to-day. A German, whose name could not be learned, on State street, and Simon Kolinski, living in North Seventh street, Williamsburg. The German girl died in a few hours. She came to this country last Saturday. These cases are being carefully investigated.

IMMIGRANT PASSENGERS ON THE FRIELAND.

Immigrant passengers on the Frieland, which arrived here Aug. 22, seem to have brought the disease to little Minnie Layinger, who died Sept. 11. They are traced back to Antwerp, which they reached from other cities of Europe, no doubt infected with cholera. When the Frieland reached quarantine there was reported no illness on board, and after a few hours' detention and so-called quarantine the passengers were permitted to proceed. From the steamship pier the passengers scattered over the city and the district of the public is not justified. Mayor Grant has issued a proclamation to the public in which he says the health department has shown entire competence to deal with the plague. He anticipates no spread of the disease, and asks the people to have confidence in the provisions adopted by the board for the safety of the people. He also invites their aid in enforcing sanitary regulations for the maintenance of health.

The proclamation declares that recent hospitals, with doctors and nurses, are all equipped and ready to receive and isolate each case as it is discovered; that physicians are closely watching the thickly populated tenement districts; that the federal and state authorities have established quarantine stations for those coming from abroad; that the Chamber of Commerce is taking active measures to lend assistance; that no energy or needed expenditure will be wanting; and that excessive fear on the part of the public is not justified. Cholera, the proclamation says, is neither infectious nor contagious, within the common meaning of the words, nor is it, in the language of eminent authority, as dangerous as diseases that are constantly in our midst, and the public will be intelligently advised as to the progress of the disease.

ACTION OF HEALTH OFFICERS.

Sanitary Superintendent Edson has had a conference with Police Superintendent Byrnes, and over 300,000 cholera circulars are being distributed through the city. Superintendent Byrnes has instructed all the police captains as to their duties. The cholera circulars are printed in English, German, Hebrew, Italian and Bohemian. The board of coroners have decided to cooperate with the health board in combating the disease, and all the coroners and their physicians are requested to be on duty every day so as to meet all emergencies.

The health commissioners have been at the headquarters all day, ready to act should anything important transpire during the day. The board of coroners are sitting up at the floating hospitals at the foot of Sixteenth street for the reception of cholera patients in being hurried along. The nurses are offering as many as 200 women of refinement and education, who seem filled with a desire to sacrifice themselves in behalf of their fellow-citizens. The sanitary board indicate a life of ease and wealth. There have been many male applicants also.

At the meeting of the Board of Health to-day the following was adopted: Resolved, That from and after this date all persons sick with contagious disease coming from the United States Bureau of Immigration, Ellis Island, must be delivered direct to Riverside Hospital, North Brothers Island, for the reason that the premises at the foot of East Sixteenth street will be used for the care of persons sick with cholera.

If necessary the Health Board will make use of Ricker's Island as a quarantine for persons who may have been exposed to cholera. Pierpont Morgan, treasurer of the Chamber of Commerce, has organized a committee to take care of the immigrants placed there for observation. He expects to complete the quota to-morrow. There are a large number of applicants and preference is given to those who have had experience with contagious diseases. Among those selected in the Chamber of Commerce emergency fund, acknowledge the receipt of an additional $2,235 in subscriptions since noon yesterday, making the grand total to date $10,000.

General O'Brien, of the Ellis Island immigrant depot, is organizing a corps of volunteers to go to Camp Low, Sandy Hook, to take care of the immigrants placed there for observation. REPUBLICAN CLUBS.

Annual Convention of the National League—Speeches by Clarkson and McKinley.

BUFFALO, Sept. 15.—The national convention of Republican League clubs of the United States began in Music Hall this morning and will continue until to-morrow night. The business portion of the city has been profusely decorated in honor of the event, and the corridors of the principal hotels have been thronged with visitors from all portions of the Union. Music Hall was appropriately decorated with flags and bunting, and portraits of Harrison and Reid occupied prominent positions at each end of the stage. The parquette was occupied by delegates from the various States and the gallery by the alternates.

The convention was called to order at 11:30 o'clock by John H. Seachard, and after a prayer by Rev. Dr. Hubbell and a brief address of welcome by Judge Haight, President Clarkson delivered his annual address. He was greeted with cheers on his appearance. He said the falling off in the expected attendance was largely due to the cholera scare keeping away many delegates. His address was largely devoted to a review of the organization and progress of the league and its work as an element in politics. In the course of his remarks he said: "The rising question of the time—in my judgment the one on which the national campaign is surely to be fought—is the labor question. The McKinley bill has fully demonstrated the wisdom of the American policy and has gained the approval of a majority of the American homes as the permanent policy of the Republic. Next November the workingmen, farmers, business men and all classes of toilers will join in striking down the declaration of the Democratic platform of 1892 in favor of free trade as an element in politics.
